We made another "grievous error" in our item regarding the burning of Cole's hay-stack. We said Mr. Cole's loss was about twenty-five dollars, but upon careful computation, we find it was only a slight fraction over twenty-four dollars and eighty-five cents. By the way, it was from a number of citizens, Mr. Cole included, that "Cadmus got his information," although we were told of the error something less than two dozen times after it was published, and would have corrected it, had we thought it of enough importance. Next time, we will "be more careful," interview the whole family, and give a publication of the same, in full.

On Monday evening, after the ballot had been counted, the band seremaded the Mayor and City Council, reserving Mr. A. J. Mowry for the terminus, where a bountiful collation was in waiting, and which the boys displaced from mortal sight with asteriables. Phil. Kelley left, last Saturday, to act as a petit juror in the United States Court, now convened at Topeka.

The C. K. Peck, another large steamboat, and the second one up this season, passed, Sunday afternoon, bound for Fort Bismarck.

Two Chinese, one of whom spoke English, attracted considerable attention at the depot, last Saturday. They came down the railroad on the other side of the river, and were direct from California. They were bound for Falls City, where, we understand, they intend starting a tea house.

Petitions to the County Board, to call a special election to decide if the herd law order shall be revoked, have been sent by Representative Kelley to each town in the County, to be signed. Mr. Kelley informs us, that these have all been placed in the hands of men who will vigorously work the matter up, and it is intended to present them to the County Commissioners, at their majority of electors in the County can be got to sign the petition, as is required by the late State law.

The St. Joseph & Denver R. R. is now owned and controlled by New York capitalsts—Jay Gould at the helm. These silver heads amongst the gold have affixed the connecting link across the continent from New York to Colorado, and we look to see it the leading thoroughfare. Jay Gould's presence at Severance caused much excitement. Mr. Gould will construct a branch road from Atchison to this place, some time during the season, thus giving him an outlet to his through line, without having to pass through St. Joseph. The branch will be located on the old survey made some years ago for the A. & N., starting from Atchison, and running west three miles, then almost due north to this point. The machine ahops and general repair shops will be located here. The ground will be given free gratis. Mayor Kirwan is now making arrangements for the purchase of such as may be required. No doubt our siter towns will be a little envious at first, but eventually will congratulate us on our being so fortunate. The Mayor and Council speak most of the here. The ground will be given free grains. Mayor Kirwan is now making arrangements for the parchase of such as may be required. No doubt our sister towns will be a little envious at first, but eventually will congratulate us on our being so for-fortunate. The Mayor and Council spent most of the day conveying Mr. Gould over the contemplated route, and at four o'clock a fashionable dinner was given at the Steele house. Mr. Gould returned, on Monday evening, for the East.

There will be services at the M. E. Church, next Sunday.
